Note for the Reader.

WITH the present is completed the third volume of Registers for Lichfield Diocese.

The desire of the Council has been to evoke a general interest in the work by printing registers in different parts of the county, and with this object a diocesan arrangement of the volumes was adopted on the suggestion of the Chairman of Council; though as each parish is also given its own separate pagination, it is open to members to arrange the registers in any mode, local or alphabetical, which happens to appeal to their personal convenience. This, moreover, is facilitated by the separate parish indexes, from which hereafter it may be hoped there will be compiled one general index of names for the whole county.

The registers in the present volume are all printed from the commencement down to the year 1812, which seems a convenient stopping-point, as then was inaugurated a new system of registration by what is known as Rose's Act, which lasted only till 1837, when our present mode of registration of births, deaths, and marriages was adopted. It may be convenient here to add the following facts in the history of parish registers:—

Thomas Cromwell, the Vicar General, issued the order for keeping parish registers on 29 September, 1538.

Injunctions to this end repeated 1552 and 1558.

Cardinal Pole required the names of sponsors to be added to the registers of baptisms, 1555.

The registers were directed to be transcribed anew on parchment. Copies now known as "Bishops' Transcripts" to be sent to the Bishops; 25 October, 1597.

These regulations embodied in the 70th Canon in 1603.

The "Directory" orders births as well as baptisms to be entered, 1644, and during the Commonwealth the date of birth is usually given in parish registers.

The Commonwealth directed "parish registers" to be appointed, 22 September, 1653.

Civil marriage was instituted 29 September, 1654.

These civil marriages were legalized by Act of 12 Car. II, c. 33, in 1660.

Act compelling burial in woollen, 18 Car. II. 1667.

Act requiring an affidavit of burial in woollen to be entered, 30 Car. II, 1678.

Duties on the registration of births, marriages, and burials, imposed for five years, 1694 to 1698, 6 and 7 Will. III, 1694–98.

Lord Hardwicke's Marriage Act took effect 25 March, 1754.

Duty of 3*d.* on every entry in a register, imposed by 23 Geo. III, c. 71, 1783.

And repealed 34 Geo. III, c. 11, 1794.

Rose's Act, 52 Geo. III, c. 146, took effect 1st January, 1813.

Civil registration in England and Wales commenced 1st July, 1837.

It may be well to remind the reader of the "double date." Up to the time of the reform of the calendar in 1754, the civil year commenced on 25th March, while the historical year, as now, began on 1st January. Consequently the period from 1st January to 25th March was in two years. Thus, the 1st February, 1732, according to the civil year, was the 1st February, 1733, according to our (historical) reckoning, and it is often written 1st February, 1732–3, or 173$\frac{2}{3}$, the last being the historical one. In parish registers the civil reckoning was usually adopted, and this must be remembered when dealing with entries from 1st January to 25th March, before the year 1754.

It will be well to add that the letter "p" or "pauper" occurring in registers against some entries in the period 1783–96, merely indicates that they were exempted from payment of the tax then levied on register entries.

The Council decided that no really useful purpose was served by printing the registers verbatim et literatim, but that valuable space would be filled and progress delayed. Accordingly, mere verbiage has been omitted, and the following abbreviations freely adopted, save when there seemed to be any special reason for giving the entries exactly as they stand :—

b.	...	bachelor.	sep.	...	sepultus (buried).
sp.	...	spinster.	s.	...	son.
wid.	...	widow.	d.	...	daughter.
widr.	...	widower.	w.	...	wife.
p.	...	parish.	lic.	...	license.
wit.	...	witnesses.	gent.	...	gentleman.
bap.	...	baptized.	esq.	...	esquire.
chr.	...	christened.	clk.	...	clerk.
mar.	...	married.	co.	...	county.
bur.	...	buried.	dioc.	...	diocese.
ch.w.	...	churchwardens.	f.	...	filius or filia (son or daughter).
ux.	...	uxor (wife).

A capital letter after "of" or "p." denotes the parish whose particular Register is being printed (thus "of A." = of Albrighton).

Thanks are due to the clergy, the custodians of the respective registers, for leave to print them, and for facilities afforded in transcription. Their names are mentioned in the respective registers.

It is requisite to specially acknowledge the services in transcription and collation of the Rev. Thomas Priestley, the Rev. J. E. Auden, Miss Isaac, Miss Auden, and Miss Helen Briscoe.

The Register of Albrighton

Near Wolverhampton.

Albrighton Register.

THERE are two Albrightons, and both, curiously, are in Shropshire. The smaller of the two places is near Shrewsbury; but the larger and the one under consideration is in the hundred of Brimstree and rural deanery of Shifnal, and has Wolverhampton (Staffordshire) as its post town. Its eastern border is the lane which divides the two counties of Stafford and Salop. Albrighton is cut into two nearly equal portions by the parish of Boningale, which runs through it like a river.

The Registers go back to 1555, and from that date down to 1812 they comprise 5 vols.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives this account of the Albrighton Register :—"Brimstree Hundred. Albrighton V. No. I.—Bap. 1555—1653. No. II.—Bap. 1660—1725; Bur., Marr. 1684—1725. No. III.—Bap., Bur. 1754—1812. No. IV.—Marr. 1754—1812." As will be presently seen, this account is not altogether accurate.

Vol. I. covers 1555 to 1653. Written on thin paper sewn into an illuminated black letter parchment of many folds. Examination of these folds revealed both a Bap. and a Bur. of 1658. The whole has recently been put, just as it was, into a strong calf binding. The writing, though difficult to read, is for the most part clear and spaced out, but in the last few pages the entries are far too crowded. This Register measures 17 inches by 7 inches, or without the new binding 16 inches by 6 inches. A gap occurs from March 5th, 1567, to July 2nd, 1570, lost pages probably. This Vol. contains Bap., Mar., and Bur. Marriage by Licence is first mentioned 1639.

After a gap of 7 years, Vol. II. begins at 1660, and comes down to 1725. It is 13 inches by 6 inches. It is fairly well bound, and the whole, with the old cover, has been strongly re-bound, also in calf. The writing is on parchment and very distinct, and easy to read. From 1684 and ever after, the Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials are classified. The Rev. Wm. Scott made this valuable improvement. "He continues this Register so long as God in his mercy shall think fit." Our most interesting entry is in this volume, the burial of the only Duke of Shrewsbury—"Feb. 23rd, 1717, was buried, Charles, Duke of Shrewsbury."

Vol. III. is on parchment in a somewhat frail cover. Size 12 inches by 8 inches. The years included are 1726 to 1780, but at 1754 Marriages cease to be entered in this volume.

Vol. IV. contains only Baptisms and Burials. It is parchment strongly bound, and is 14 inches by 8 inches. The years are 1780—1812. Down to about 1796 persons appear to have been content with one Christian name. The age at Burial is not given previous to 1783.

Vol. V. consists of Marriages only, 1754—1812. Parchment well bound, 15 inches by 9 inches. The entries in this Vol. are for the first time on a printed form.

The Talbots are the most important family named in the Registers. The ninth, tenth, and fourteenth Earls of Shrewsbury, and the only Duke and Duchess of Shrewsbury, were interred at Albrighton, and many other members of this family, but strangely, there is a great dearth of Talbot monuments in the Church. Other families of importance are those of Harrington, Astley, Southall, Waringe, Stanier, Shadwell, Hill, Wightwick, &c.

The Religious Census of Shropshire, made in 1676, shows that there were then in Albrighton (in Newport Deanery) 267 Conformists, 23 Papists, and 1 Nonconformist. The families of Talbot, Carles, Pendrell, and Hill, belonged to the Roman Communion. This is a return of "inhabitants above the age of 16," so that the population is 1676 was probably about 600. Since then it has steadily increased; in 1801 there were 901, and in 1891, 1147 persons.

The late Rev. J. B. Blakeway's "History of Albrighton" has been printed in the Shropshire Archæological Society's Transactions, 2nd Series, Vol. XI.; as also "Notes on Albrighton in the Nineteenth Century," by the Rev. Thomas Priestley. These give a full and fairly complete account of the parish. A list of the Vicars of Albrighton is given at pp. 68—70, and 134—5. The living is in the alternate patronage of the Haberdashers' Company and Christ's Hospital. A description of the Church will be found in the Rev. D. H. S. Cranage's Architectural Account of the Churches of Shropshire, Part I.

The present transcript of the Registers was made by the Rev. Thomas Priestley, Vicar of Albrighton, by whose permission it is here printed; and the proof-sheets, as they passed through the press, have been compared with the original Registers by the Rev. J. E. Auden, Vicar of Tong.

{ Elizabeth Caroline Oatley,
{ John Oatley.

NOTE.—In this entry there are two errors, Thomas instead of John as the name of the Infant, and Catharine instead of Elizabeth Caroline the name of the Mother. This error was detected by me, F. W. Franklin, Vicar, 27 Oct., 1834, and corrected this, 4th Novr. by ye same, by Act 1st Will. 4th, c. 66.

THOMAS LLOYD, Vicar.

Memorandum. October ye 25th, 1809, being the day on which our good old King entered the 50th year of his Reign, was celebrated as a Jubilee or day of national rejoicing. All the poorer Inhabitants of this Parish were feasted by the more opulent, who liberally subscribed for the occasion, and more than six hundred persons, old and young, received a pound of meat and a pound of bread per head.

The Royal Oak Volunteers, consisting of 120 men of the Parishes of Donington, Albrighton and Boningale met, fired a feu de joie, went to Church, and afterwards dined together. All hearts and voices sang "God save the King."

THOMAS LLOYD, Vicar.

The Register of Boningale.

Boningale Registers.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, gives this account of the Boningale Registers:—"Bonninghall P.C. No. I.—Bap., Bur., 1698—1812; Marr., 1698—1750. No. II.—Marr., 1758—1812. No Marriages solemnized, 1750—1758."

The earliest register is a parchment book of 21 leaves, size, 18 by 8 inches, in a leather cover, and is in good condition. The second register is the usual printed form, but contains only space for 50 Marriages; it extends from 1758 to 1803. There is another Register for Marriages, which contains only one entry, in 1812.

Boningale is a township and small scattered parish in the Diocese of Lichfield, Rural Deanery of Shifnal, and Hundred of Brimstree. It lies on the road from Shrewsbury to Birmingham, about a mile from the village of Albrighton. Its area is 1,003 acres, and the population in 1891 was 165. It formerly belonged to the De Bolinghales, a family of good though not of Knightly rank. In the 12th century the name of Henry de Bolynghale is found as its Lord. Hugh de Bolynghale was the owner 1203 to 1228, and another Hugh 1250—1275. In 1277, however, either this Hugh or his son, also Hugh de Bolynghale, gave all his lands to Lilleshall Abbey, whose monks retained an interest in the property till the Dissolution of Religious Houses in 1538. The advowson, however, being of small value, became attached to the parish of Stockton, though entirely separated from it by 2 intervening parishes, and some 5 miles away. In Pope Nicholas' Taxation of 1291 Boningale is mentioned as a Chapelry of Stockton, and in Henry VIII's Valor Ecclesiasticus of 1534, the Chapel of Bonynghal in the Deanery of Newport is included in the return made by the Rector of Stockton.

Jonathan Wild, the notorious highwayman, who was executed at Tyburn in 1726, was born at Boningale in 1682.

Lea Hall,* a good specimen of 16th century brick manor house with stone mullioned windows and twisted chimneys, is said to have been occupied by a garrison during the Civil War in order to guard the road between Shrewsbury and Birmingham. There are some fine half-timbered houses close to the Church, and the meadow between it and the highroad is called the Lady's Close. In the Churchyard are a very old yew tree, and a sundial with the motto: "Sine Sole Sileo." On the outside of the Church under the East window is carved W. Wakelin, 1778.

*In 1521 Nicholas Waring is described as of "Lea Hall," and so is his grandson, who was father of Edmund Waring, of Albrighton, and great grandfather of Major Edmund Waring, of Humphreston, Sheriff of Shropshire, and M.P. for Bridgnorth.

The Church is dedicated to St. Chad, and in the Shingled Spire are three bells, concerning one of which there is a local legend to the following purport :—" Formerly there were no bells at Boningale, but the inhabitants hearing that three new ones were on their way from Birmingham to Donington, intercepted one of them on its way through the village and hung it in their own steeple, where it has remained ever since."

The Church was restored and the South aisle added in 1861 at a cost of £1,000. Further improvements took place in 1890 when the nave was re-tiled, and the inside old carved oak of the roof repaired, and re-backed with new oak panelling. In 1891 the Treble bell was re-cast, and the three bells re-fixed with new fittings by Taylor & Co. Finally, in 1894, a new Porch was added. In the Chancel is a marble tablet to the Rev. William Tindall, who was Curate for 25 years, and in the Vestry is another, erected by her three sons, to Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, eldest daughter of Mr. John Wood, of Whiston, and relict of Mr. John Robinson, Solicitor of Dudley ; she died March 29, 1843, in her 72nd year. In the Vestry in an old oak parish Chest. There is no Vicarage House.

Boningale being, till the death of the Rev. Charles B. C. Whitmore in 1856, a Chapelry belonging to the parish of Stockton, the Rectors of Stockton were therefore also Rectors of Boningale. The result was that (as Hardwick in his MS. Shropshire Collections remarks), after the death of Mr. Littleford in 1714, for over 125 years this neglected parish had no resident clergyman, either as Curate or Rector. Before the separation of the parishes in 1857, the Rectors of Stockton with Boningale do not seem to have ever taken duty at Boningale, with the exception of the Rev. Charles Whitmore, who, having taken offence at something which happened at Stockton, obtained a Curate to do the duty there, and officiated himself at Boningale from June, 1833 to Oct., 1851, to avoid doing so at Stockton. The following names of officiating Ministers occur in the Registers.

Thomas Littleford. Buried at Boningale, July 21, 1714.

1742—65. Richard Stanley, B.A., Pembroke Coll., Oxon. Buried at B., April 16, 1765, aged 54.

The Register of Donington.

Donington Registers.

Donington is a scattered parish in the hundred of Brimstree, with an area of 2,641 acres, and a population in 1891 of 379. In this number are not included the inhabitants of Boscobel, which is extra-parochial. In the early part of the 11th century the manor seems to have belonged to Wulfgate, of Donington, whose will is still preserved. Possibly his residence was situated on the earthwork, still in excellent preservation, at Humphreston, called the "Moat Bank." Domesday Book records that in 1086 "the Earl Roger de Montgomery himself holds Donitone. Earl Edwin held it in the time of King Edward." From the Norman Earl it passed to his eldest son, the cruel Robert, Earl de Belèsme, on whose rebellion in 1102, Henry I. granted it to Richard de Belmeis, Bishop of London, 1108 to 1127. In the Belmeis family the manor remained for a considerable time, being for long held by a collateral branch under the Lords of Tong, the elder house. Possibly Beamish Hall, in Albrighton parish, was the seat of the Belmeis of Donington. From them it passed to the De Wynnesburys, who were succeeded in the 15th century by the De Humphrestons, and from them it went, by marriage, to the Corbets of Moreton Corbet. The last were strong royalists, and on the outbreak of the Civil war, garrisoned their moated hall at Humphreston, where recently, in making alterations in the grounds, several iron cannon balls were found. Sir Richard Corbet, Knt., of Humphreston, was one of those who, in 1642, signed "the Ingagement and Resolution of the Principal Gentlemen of the County of Salop, for the Raising and Maintayning of Forces at their own Charge, for the Defence of His Majestie." When the Royal cause was lost, Major Edmund Waring,* a staunch Parliamentarian (and an Anabaptist, as we learn from the Entries of the births, and not the baptisms of his children in the Register), obtained the property, either by sequestration, or purchase when the Corbets were heavily fined for their loyalty by the Parliament. Major Waring, however, met with a sad end. He was drowned in what was thenceforth known as "Mund's Hole," when returning from a carousal at Albrighton. From the Warings, Humphreston passed to the Colmores, and Donington, through the Lees of Langley, to the Slaneys, and then to the Bishtons. Both estates were re-united when purchased by George Jones, grandfather of Daniel Jones, of Kilsall, the present Lord of the Manor of Donington, and of H. F. J. Vaughan, of Humphreston (whose ancient hall possessed its own chapel, and formed the chief residence in the parish, till destroyed in the Civil Wars, and whence came Roger de Humphreston, an early Rector.)

*Probably nephew of the "Edmund Waring of Albrighton, gent., and Mary his wife," mentioned in the Albrighton Register in 1606, 1607, and 1608. There is a mural tablet to the Major in Donington Church.

Neachley (where was the grange farm of the Convent of White Ladies), Kilsall (spoken of in Wulfgate's will as Cylleshale), and Shackerley, were all members of the Manor of Donington, and each of them had its under-tenants. At the last (formerly always Shackerlawe), in the Mill Meadow, is a Saxon earthwork or mound, still locally called the "Thieves' Den," a curious corroboration of the derivation of the word Shackerley from A. S. Sceacre, a robber, and hlaw, a mound, the Robbers' Mound.

In 1676, the Religious census gives the population of Donington, over the age of 16, as 110 Conformists, 5 Papists, and 1 Nonconformist. Calamy mentions George Reves, afterwards at Talke, as Puritan Minister here.

The Church at Donington is dedicated to St. Cuthbert, and was founded by Roger de Montgomery, and bestowed on Shrewsbury Abbey. In 1256, the Jurors of the Brimstree Hundred reported that Simon, Parson of Dunyton, "had been slain by unknown malefactors, who had also burnt his house, and the vills of Dunyton and Tonge had made no pursuit after the assassins." The old Tower, which collapsed on Lady Day, 1879, belonged to two periods, the lower part and next storey being circa 1200; the upper part, or belfry, circa 1500. The new Tower, rebuilt in 1880, is an exact reproduction, with two exceptions—it has no pinnacles on the four corners (added to the old circa 1700), and is about three or four feet higher. The Chancel is circa 1280 to 1300. The Nave was apparently re-built in 1635, for on some of the corbels that date is carved, and a beam bears the inscription "Thomas Twigg, Carpenter, 1635." The North Aisle was built, and two Galleries removed when the Church was thoroughly restored, 1878—9.

There is a spring and shallow stone well on glebe land not far from the Church, which, from time immemorial, has been called "St. Cuthbert's Well," and which has always been regarded as containing properties beneficial to weak eyes.

The parish consists of a number of small hamlets originally surrounding the old common lands (which were enclosed in 1781). This is probably the reason why the Church was built so close to that of Albrighton. We see from the murder of the Rector in 1256, that the district was very insecure, and we know that in King Edward the first's reign (1272—1307) a Charter was granted to Albrighton making it a free borough and corporation, "because it adjoined to Staffordshire on the east, south, and west parts, and was remote from Shrewsbury, and three royal highways led out of Staffordshire through the said town, by reason whereof felons and other malefactors within Staffordshire escaped out of that county into the precincts of Albrighton, which often happened in default of prosecuting such delinquents, and the due execution of the laws in that angle of Shropshire where no justices of peace (to whose office the case thereof belonged) were residing, whereby malefactors were multiplied and the King's faithful subjects aggrieved." The Church was therefore for the safety of its officials and property, built in that part of the parish which was nearest to a large centre of population.

With reference to the position of the various inhabitants of Donington, the owners of Humphreston are always designated "Esquire," e.g. William Humfreyson (1559), Robert Corbet (1622), Vincent Corbet (1647), Edmund Waring (1653), and William Colmore (1679); Thomas Grey (1652) is also thus distinguished. The following are styled "Mr." or "gent.,"—Thomas Cowper (1561), Ferrars Fowke (1654), and the families of Brigin, Northall, Twigg, Jellicorse, and Yates; the four last being also sometimes called "yeomen," which latter designation is borne by the Stauntons of Shakerley, the Pytts of Donington, the Bishtons of Kilsall (1593), the Whistons of Kilsall (1605), and the Walfords.

The Parish Register Abstract, 1831, contains this account of the Donington Parish Registers:—"Donington R. No. I., Bap., Bur., Mar., 1556—1691, interrupted by No. II., Bap., Bur., 1689—1796, Mar. 1689—1753. No. III., Bap., Bur., 1797—1812. No. IV., Mar. 1756—1812."

The Registers are in excellent condition. The early one is legible throughout, and is marked periodically with B.V. at the Bishop's Visitations. The second one is in slightly dilapidated binding, but is otherwise in good order. The entries of Burials from 1690 to 1795, are marked with "Affidavit returned," referring to the Act for Burying in Woollen, and a note of the duty payable on all entries is marked in the margin. The entries of Private Baptisms are almost invariably completed by the addition of the date of the reception of the child into the Church. The Marriage Register Book from 1756 till 1812, contains also the Banns from 1756 till 1847. Names of several Clergy appear as giving out Banns which do not occur in the Register of Marriages. In 1803, Wm. Robinson, Clerk; in the same year T. Lawrence, Curate. In 1805, M. Kemsey. Curate. In 1807, Wm. Tyndall, Curate, and again in 1810 and 1811, from which time till 1847 occurs the signature of Joseph Dale.

The Registers were transcribed (by the kind permission of the Rector, the Rev. W. A. Sheringham) by Miss Auden, with the assistance of Miss Helen Briscoe, of Neach Hill, who also collated the proof sheets, as they passed through the press, with the original Registers.

A list of the Rectors of Donington will be found at the end of the Transcript.

J. C. WOODHOUSE, Rect.

In 1788 three new windows were made on the South Side of the Church. The Pulpit and desk removed from the North to the South side of the Church, which was all newly pewed and other repairs* compleated.

J. C.W., Rector.

In 1795 before the Harvest there was a great deficiency of Wheat. The price of which was kept to a moderate pitch for some time by a liberal agreement amongst the millers and farmers (proposed by Mr. Bishton of this parish) not to buy or sell for more than ten shillings and fourpence per bushell, three of which to weigh 22olb., but the price rising greatly in the surrounding counties the little corn remaining in this neighbourhood was sold at an enormous price. In July, about the 29th, at 18/- per bushell, in August for more than one guinea. The poor were assisted by liberal subscriptions.

* These repairs are mentioned in the register book of 1797 as: "The bad windows to the North stopped up and three new ones opened to the South."

To find the drains of the parsonage house measure from the Garden door Westward by the side of the wall 12 yds., there the main drain enters the Garden, passing in a right line between that place and the cellar. Measure also from the Garden down Northward 8 yds and you will find where the drain from the Pumpyard joins the main drain [illustrated by a roughly drawn plan].

The Burial Register of White Ladies.

White Ladies' Register.

The extra-parochial district of White Ladies consists of 595 acres, of which 290 are allotted to the farm of Boscobel, and 305 to White Ladies. At the latter are the ruins of the Church once belonging to the Cistercian Convent of St. Leonards, the name of White Ladies being derived from the white dress of the Nuns to distinguish it from the Benedictine Convent of the Black Ladies in Staffordshire, some two miles distant. The date of the foundation of this Cistercian Convent in the midst of the forest of Brewood is uncertain, but from the fact that Emma de Pulverbatch, having granted a virgate of land in Beobridge to the White Nuns of Brewood, granted the remainder in 1186 to Haughmond Abbey, it has been concluded that it was in existence at least as early as 1185. Once founded, however, this Sisterhood soon acquired property, among the gifts being a grant by King John in 1212 of a weir on the Severn, near Bridgnorth. The advowson of Montford Church also belonged to them shortly after 1291. Members of rich and powerful families became members; in 1326 Elizabeth la Zouche, grandaughter of the great Alan la Zouche, and Alice de Kallerhale escaped from the Convent, but in 1332 the former made her confession before the Bishop of Lichfield in Brewood Church, and her petition before the Convent gate for re-admission, on which the Bishop gave her absolution, and admitted her to penance.

In 1338 a charge was made against the Convent of expensive dress, and laxity of rule, hunting dogs being also found there.

At the time of its surrender by Margaret Stamford the Prioress, there were six nuns, and she returned £31 1s. 4d. as the gross annual income of the House of St. Leonards, derived from demesne lands at White Ladies and rents in Shropshire, Staffordshire and Nottinghamshire; Thomas Giffard was their Seneshal, and the Chaplain's income was £5 per annum. Very shortly after the dissolution of Religious Houses, at the West end of the now ruined Convent Church was erected the half-timbered mansion, (an engraving of which was published in Blount's Boscobel, ed. 1660*), where Charles II. found his first refuge on September 4, 1661, after his defeat at Worcester. Of this building not a vestage remains, though some of the foundations can be traced in very dry weather. Whether as owner or tenant, this house was the residence of William Skeffington, son of Sir John Skeffington, Alderman of London. He was buried in Tong Church in 1550, and on his brass is described as "late of the White Ladies, Esquire."

*Copied by Alan Fea on p. 18 of his "Flight of the King"; and by Griffiths on p. 27 of his "Tong and Boscobel."

"An Esquier he was righte hardye to the fealde,"
"And faithfull to his Prynce in quiet tyme of peace."

His widow re-married Edward Giffard, whose son, John, was the builder of Boscobel House, circa 1606. John Giffard invited Sir Basil Brooke with other friends and neighbours to the housewarming feast, and desired Sir Basil to give the house a name. He aptly called it Boscobel (from the Italian Bosco-bello, fair wood), because it was seated in the midst of many fair woods. This house, built in the demesne of White Ladies, seems to have been intended as a hiding place for Roman Catholic recusants, who at that time and subsequently suffered much from penal laws. For this reason the priests' holes (so useful to Charles II.), were contrived, it is said, by the Jesuit Brother, Nicholas Owen, nicknamed Little John, who devoted the greater part of his life to designing and constructing such hiding places in the principal Roman Catholic houses all over England. In 1651 White Ladies and Boscobel belonged to Frances Cotton, widow of John Cotton, and daughter and heiress of John and Dorothy Giffard; from her the estate passed to her daughter Jane, wife of Basil Fitzherbert, and remained in this family till 1812, when Thomas Fitzherbert sold it to Mr. Walter Evans, of Darley Abbey, Derbyshire. retaining, however, the ruined Church and an area of two acres around it, which still belongs to the Fitzherberts, and though unfenced is defined by boundary stones.

Formerly there was a considerable population here. Mr. Plaxton, a former Rector of Donington, makes this entry:—"All at ye White Ladyes, and all in one house, aged now 272 years, and all in good health, 92 Henry Gyles, 93 Judith Gyles, 87 Griffin Torry. Mem. yt. Henry Gyles died in ye yeare 1694." Judy Giles was buried at Tong, June 2, 1698, and Griffin, Nov. 30, 1697; and from the frequent occurrance of burials from White Ladies in that Churchyard there seems some truth in the description of White Ladies as being "in the parish of Tong," (which is found in 1550, 1651, and other years). Possibly this was the burial place for the Protestant inhabitants. In 1692 William Gyles, Yeoman, John Sotherne, Yeoman, and Henry Gyles, Yeoman, are described as "de le White Ladies in Com. Salop"; and in 1707 the Howe, Pendrill, and Spicer families were living in the "Aunccient Extraparochiall of White Ladyes," which then supported its own poor. At the time Mr. Evans bought the property for his step-daughters, the old gate house, used as a labourer's dwelling, and two small cottages on the West end of the ruin were standing, as well as other cottages elsewhere on the demesne, but they were all taken down at once in order to escape the payment of poor rates. In 1814 the present White Ladies farm house was built in the parish of Donington, and now Boscobel House is the only habitation in this extra-parochial district.

The ground enclosed within the walls of the ruined Church has probably from shortly after the Dissolution been used as a burial ground for the Roman Catholics of the neighbourhood, and was, till the consecration of the Cemetery at Brewood in 1844, their only place of sepulchre. There are, however, in the field called the Hall Orchard at Albrighton, several gravestones to recusants, possibly connected with the Talbots of Pepperhill. An order of Sessions, dated Jan. 15, 1694, 6 Will. III., ordered all burials at White Ladies to be registered at Donnington, and the following eleven are so registered :—

1694, Sept. —. Edward Revell, of Shiffnall, gent.
1694, Dec. 20. Charles Staneley, of Wolverhampton.
1694, Jan. 30. Ursala Stanforth, of Wolverhampton.
1694, Feb. 14. Mrs. Elizabeth Purcell, of Madeley.
1697, Mar. 11. Margaret, w. of John Martin, of Idsale.
1698, June 20. Issabella Duncalf, of Tong.
1698, July 18. Joanna Purcell, of Wolverhampton.
1698, Dec. 25. William Illedge.
1700, Oct. 18. Dorothy Purcell.
1700, Mar. 21. George Talbot, gent.
1702, Apr. 21. Anne Purcell, late of Madely.

This order was not implicitly obeyed, for the following entries are found in other Registers :—

1700, Aug. —. Bur. at White Ladies, John Rogers, of Tong (Tong).
1701-2, Jan. 9. Mary Martin, bur. at White Ladies (Albrighton).
1707, Nov. 26. George Harrington, yeoman, bur at White Ladies (do.).
1723-4, Feb. 2. Mary, w. of John Rogers, from Boningale, bur. at White Ladies (Boningale).

There is also this entry in the Donington Register :—

1688. William Bach, of Albrighton, servt. of Mr. George Harrington, bur. at White Ladies, June 23.

Probably many other like entries would be found in the Shifnal and Brewood Registers.

Gilbert Talbot, 13th Earl of Shrewsbury, created by His Holiness the Pope, Bishop of Bertha, an Italian See, died at Pepperhill on Dec. 12, 1743, and was buried in the Cemetery.

The numerous burials in the Register of White Ladies from Bishop's Wood and Kiddimore Green are accounted for by the fact that, till some 50 years ago, nearly all the tenants of the Giffards of Chillington were Roman Catholics.

The following, among others, have had charge of the Cemetery :—

1651. Rev. William Walker. [Flight of the King, p. 204.]
1651. Rev. —— Chambers. [Flight of the King, p. 328.]

1691. Rev. Robert Collingwood.

17—. Rev. Thomas Stone. Died March 7, 1797.

1790. Rev. John Roe. Died June 28, 1838, aged 82. Buried at White Ladies, July 3.

1838. Rev. Robert Richmond, three times Pastor of the Longbirch Congregation, and Founder of St. Mary's Church at Brewood, and its first Pastor. Died June 23, 1844, aged 62. Buried at Brewood, June 24.

1844. Rev. William Richmond, Pastor of the Congregation of St. Mary's, Brewood. Died Nov. 11, 1848, aged 50, Buried at Brewood, Nov. 16.

1848. Rev. James Francis Jones; afterwards at Cheadle; Canon of St. Chad's Cathedral, Birmingham.

1855. Rev. Philip Kavanagh; afterwards at Stafford.

1857. Rev. Michael O'Sullivan; afterwards at St. Chad's, Birmingham; Canon of the Chapter, and subsequently Vicar General; the builder of Stafford Church. Died at Solihull, near Birmingham.

1859. Rev. Henry Davey; afterwards Missionary Rector of Bromsgrove, where he died.

1863. Rev. James S. Grenside. Died Dec. 29, 1867, aged 48. Buried at Brewood, Jan. 2, 1868.

1868. Rev. Henry B. Davies; now Pastor of St. Mary and St. John's, Wolverhampton, and Canon of St. Chad's.

1869. Rev. Edward C. Acton; afterwards exchanged with the Rev. J. Nary, of Stafford: was subsequently President of St. Mary's College, Oscott. Died at Stafford, 1899.

1873. Rev. James Nary; afterwards at Dorchester and Leamington. Died at Leamington.

1877. Rev. Louis Groom; President of St. Charles' Conference, Wolverhampton; Rural Dean of Staffordshire, and Vicar Faran; the President Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Brewood.

The transcript of the Burial Register has been made by the Rev. J. E. Auden, M.A., Vicar of Tong (by the kind permission of the Very Rev. Dean Groom), and he also revised the proofs as they passed through the press, Mr. J. H. Clarke, of Tong Norton, giving him valuable assistance with the inscriptions and other information.

I

A Register of the Burials at White Ladies.

The only visible remains of the Cistercian Monastery at White Ladies consist of the Ruins of the Church, which appears to have been of Norman Architecture, and built in the form of a cross. The walls now standing are the North wall of the Church, the wall at the West end, the South wall of the Nave as far as the Transcept, and the end of the South Transcept. All the other buildings of the Monastery are levelled, though many of the foundations still remain underground. The greater part of the ground that was occupied by the Church, as likewise by what appears to have been a chantry chapel at the South-east corner, has been long made use of as a burial place for the congregation at Black Ladies, and a few families in the neighbourhood. From the confined nature of the place and the length of time it had been used, it became necessary to enlarge the Cemetery, and accordingly in the year 1834 a small piece of ground adjoining the Church on the South side was added to it, containing a space of about twenty yards by six. In the same year a new wall of the height of eight feet was built to enclose that part of both the old and new burial ground, round which the walls of the Ruin did not extend. The stone for this purpose was got principally from the foundations of some of the monastic buildings on the South side of the Church. The interior of the Cemetery which had been overgrown with weeds and bushes was likewise cleared, the stones and rubbish were removed and the ground was levelled. The expense attending these improvements amounted to upwards of £40.

Sketch of the Cemetery and Ground plan of the Church.

Dimensions of the Church:—
Length of Church, 114ft., Breadth of Church, 25ft. 6in.
Length of Transept, 70ft., Breadth of Transept, 15ft. 6in.

The Cross marks the site of the ancient Church; [the dotted lines the walls no longer standing; the guinea-edged lines those built in 1834.]

The part coloured yellow represents the old, and that which is blue the new burial ground. The North Transept lies open to the meadow.

It is evident that some bodies have been buried outside the walls, three grave stones being found at the East end of the Church under the turf, two of which* were removed into the Cemetery; they seem to have marked the graves of two priests, as there is a chalice represented on each of them but without inscription or date.

An annual Mass for the repose of the souls of those who are buried at White Ladies is said by the nearest officiating priest, for whom a sum of money has been left. The donor and his intentions are as follows:—" Revd. Thomas Stone died at Moseley, March 7, 1797. He left £10 to the Common Purse, the interest of which shall be given to the Priest who shall officiate the nearest to White Ladies, requiring that he should on the day of his anniversary say Mass for the repose of his soul, and for the souls of all those who are buried at White Ladies."

* [Dating probably from the years 1240 and 1280. Rev. H. G. De Bunsen.]

The following Inscriptions on the Tombstones will in part supply the deficiency of a Register of Burials which was not kept till the year 1828:—

ERRATA.

Page 9. No entries for 1576, 1577, and 1578, and no reason assigned.

Page 197, line 38. "Ennfeild." In the corresponding entry in the Banns Book, this is "Envield in the county of Stafford," no doubt the modern Enville.

Vicars of Albrighton, 86.

ERRATA.

On page 82, lines 15, 16, 17, 18, a bad printer's error occurs. The paragraph should read thus :—

"1607. John Chapman, Rector of Donington, was the success^{r} of Mr Thomas Mores, & he was buryed the 9th day of June 1607. This John Chapman was son of Richard Chapman, of Hilton in ye parish of Sheriff Hales."

On page 4, line 2, for "bur.," read "mar."; and transfer "daye labourer" to line 4.
